PROFILE

Passionate about technology and fuelled by curiosity, I've been exploring computer and server systems since childhood. Along the way, I've delved into networking and dipped my toes into programming, particularly with Python. This journey has not only honed my technical skills but instilled in me a love for learning and adapting to the ever-evolving tech landscape. Now, I wanted to contribute my skills to organizations or companies, eager to bring fresh, new perspectives and innovative solutions to the tech realm.
